LAURENT FABIUS ANNOUNCED THE US GREEN CONTRIBUTION IN ADVANCE OF COP21-----

Here is the following statement from The Nature Conservancy's Director of International Climate Policy, Duncan Marsh.

AMBITIOUS OBJECTIVE OF REDUCING EMISSION BY 80% BY 2050-----

After Switzerland, the European Union, Norway and Mexico, the contribution of the United States, the second largest emitter in the world, represents a new step in the preparation of the COP21 in Paris. I encourage all countries to publish as soon as possible their national contributions in accordance with the decision taken at the COP19 in Warsaw and confirmed at the COP20 in Lima.
